MANDATORY ENTRANCE/EXIT INTERVIEW PROCESS

FOR LOAN RECIPIENTS

The Office of Student Financial Services is required to inform you of your rights and responsibilities as a Stafford Loan borrower. As an incoming student, first time Stafford Loan borrower you must complete an Entrance counseling session prior to the receipt of any loan proceeds. Prior to graduating, if you have borrowed a Stafford student loan while attending AUA, you are required to complete a loan Exit counseling session before you take a leave of absence or graduation.

Why Is Counseling Important?

- Helps you understand your rights and responsibilities as a loan borrower
- It helps you make the right choices by providing loan information and how to manage your educational costs
- It is a Federal requirement that all loan recipients must complete before funds are disbursed

Exit Counseling

- Graduating Medical student guide to student loans
- Education Debt manager for Graduating Medical Students 2017
- Salary Loan Debt to income calculator

Please select the appropriate step below to receive more information and to begin the process:

- Entrance Counseling Interview
- Exit Counseling Interview